This working group would consider information included in the attached survey from students, prioritize areas with high crime, and prioritize high injury pedestrian corridors (especially Channing Circle, Oxford Street and the other areas in the map). The working group should also revisit the signature sign-off process currently contained in the application process for a City of Berkeley streetlight, in order to streamline the process. Housing at UC Berkeley

Advancing our goals for students and faculty.

November 2019

The shortage of available and affordable housing for Berkeley's students and untenured ladder faculty is a matter of urgent concern.

Berkeley's lack of campus housing capacity adversely impacts the overall student experience and challenges our ability to recruit faculty, graduate students and post-docs.

UC Berkeley has the lowest percentage of beds for undergraduate and graduate students of any campus in the UC system.

Additionally, the Bay Area is one of the tightest housing markets in the nation.

23%

Combined percentage of undergraduate and graduate students in university housing by UC campus.

January 2016

UC President Janet Napolitano announced a housing initiative to support current students and future enrollment growth across the UC system.

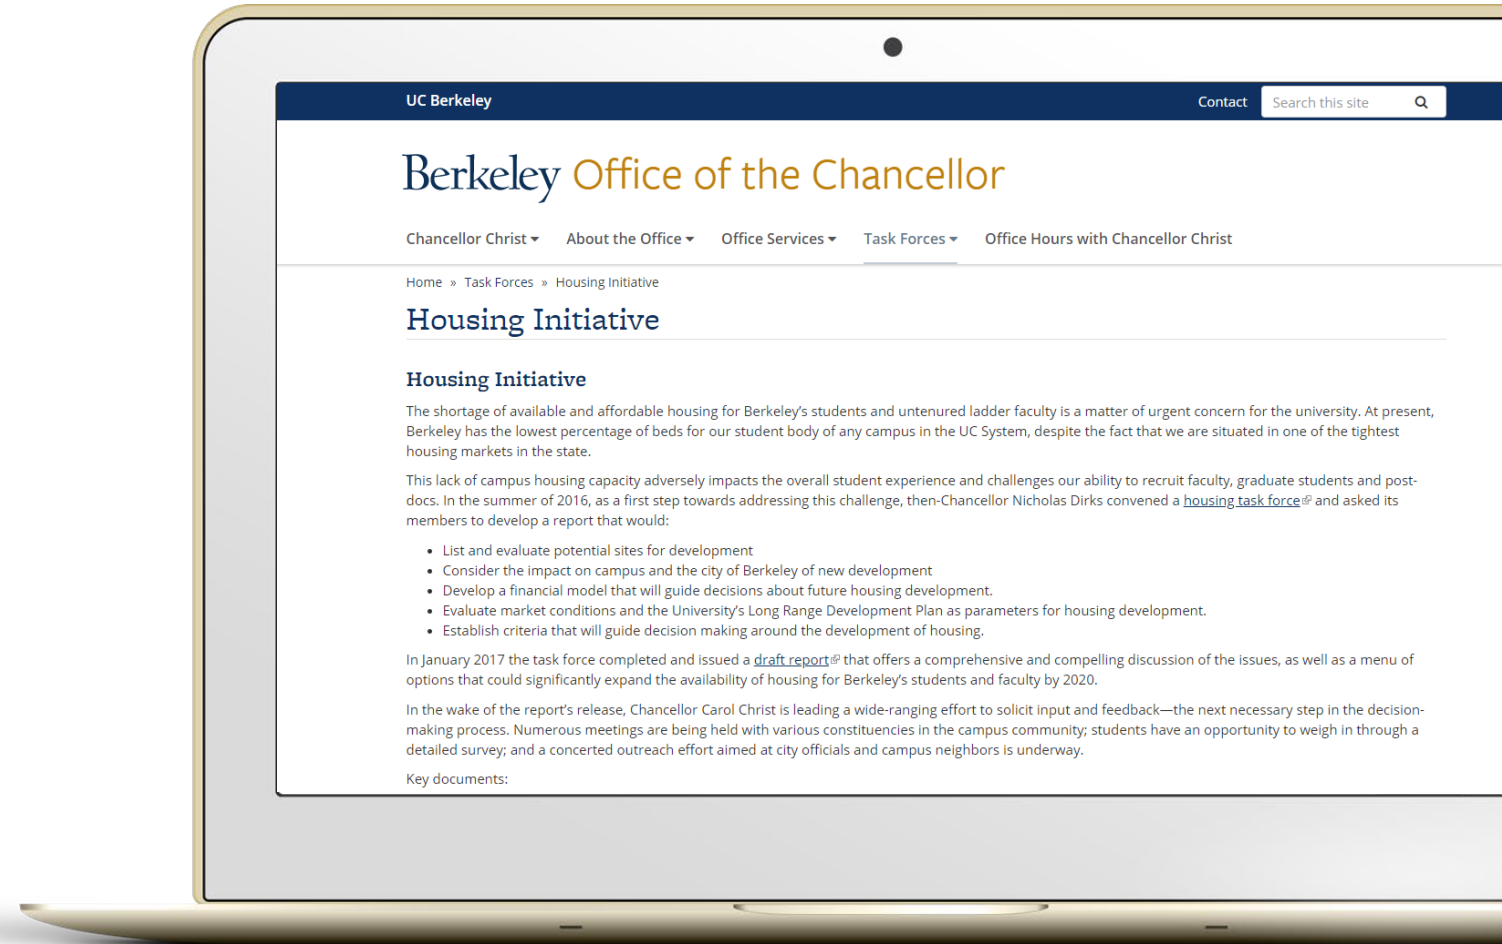

June 2016

Then-provost and current Berkeley chancellor Carol Christ convened and chaired the Housing Master Plan Task Force to specifically respond to the shortage of housing at Berkeley.

January 2017

Chancellor Christ endorsed the Housing Task Force's report that:

- 1. Identified several campus-controlled sites for development.
- 2. Established goals for additional student and faculty housing.

Read the report: chancellor.berkeley.edu/task-forces/housing-initiative

Goals established by the Housing Task Force's report:

2 YEARS

HOUSING AVAILABILITY FOR ENTERING FRESHMEN

+3,900 beds

1 YEAR

HOUSING AVAILABILITY FOR ENTERING TRANSFER STUDENTS

+1,850 beds

1 YEAR

HOUSING AVAILABILITY FOR ENTERING GRADUATE STUDENTS

+2,750 beds

Up to six years of housing availability for untenured faculty.

+300 units

= 8,800 new beds

Goals established by the Housing Task Force's report:

UC Berkeley undergraduates:

52% in University Housing

UC Berkeley graduate students:

33% in University Housing

* Percentages based on 2016-17 enrollment

UC Berkeley will develop housing sites using a multipronged approach. Utilizing three delivery models concurrently will expedite construction of new housing projects – and do so in as cost-effective a manner as possible.

1. Campus Construction

A preferred method, but constrained by the University's limited financial resources.

2. Donor-Development

A preferred method, but limited by donor interest and commitments.

3. Public-Private Partnerships

A private developer provides design and development expertise. Financing may be provided by developer or may be secured through UCOP financing structure.

Looking ahead – anticipated project delivery (as of November 2019):

Housing progress being made:
