

IN HONOR OF DAVE FOGARTY

- WHEREAS, Dave Fogarty has had deep roots in the Berkeley community since his arrival in 1965 and he has been called a “true Berkeley guy” by friends because of his participation in many of the 1960s social movements and his values and commitment to community service; and
- WHEREAS, Dave is well known for his hard work, excellent strategic skills, and genuine caring for and encouragement of all of his clients regardless of sector, size, or whether they are established or start-up; and
- WHEREAS, Dave came to Berkeley after graduating from the University of Washington and worked for years as a librarian at UC Berkeley in the Government Documents Department of the library before earning a Master of City Planning degree in the UC Berkeley Department of City and Regional Planning; and
- WHEREAS, Dave Fogarty started his long and distinguished career in the City of Berkeley’s Office of Economic Development in 1987, where he provided high-quality data development and analytic services, authored reports on various topics, and worked with numerous business improvement districts and merchant associations, including the Elmwood, Telegraph, and some along Solano and University avenues; and
- WHEREAS, Dave has had a transformative impact on several of these districts, providing important behind-the-scenes leadership in the moving of the South Berkeley Bowl to the old Safeway site on Shattuck and Adeline and perhaps most notably in the Elmwood where he was lead staff in creating Berkeley’s first business improvement district, which was responsible for rebuilding the historic Elmwood Theater; and
- WHEREAS, Dave is a terrific traveler, fluent Spanish speaker, and is preparing to do more of the extended trips that he so enjoys, and he will, undoubtedly, have many great adventures all over the world in the coming years.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT I, TOM BATES, Mayor of the City of Berkeley do hereby proclaim 2014 as in the City of Berkeley in honor of his remarkable career in public service and his dedication to our community.
