OFFICE OF THE CITY CLERK
CITY OF BERKELEY

ORDINANCE NO. #,###-N.S.

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF BERKELEY INCREASING THE BUSINESS LICENSE TAX ON OWNERS OF FIVE OR MORE RESIDENTIAL RENTAL UNITS FROM 1.081% to ~~2.8803.793%~~, PROHIBITING THE PASS-THROUGH OF THE TAX TO MOST TENANTS, AND DIRECTING THE HOUSING ADVISORY COMMISSION TO MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS FORREGARDING ADDITIONAL EXPENDITURES FOR AFFORDABLE HOUSING

THE PEOPLE OF THE CITY OF BERKELEY ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Findings and declarations.

The people of Berkeley find and declare as follows:

- a. Business license taxes for the rental of residential property can be increased by a vote of the people.
- b. Any increase in this tax cannot be passed on to the 974% of tenants currently protected by the City's rent ordinances and regulations and will not be passed on to the other 63% since those owners already raise rents to the maximum the market will bear.
- c. Residential rents in Berkeley have increased dramatically primarily due to high demand due to Berkeley's location in the center of the San Francisco Bay Area, expansion of the University of California, and major public investments in schools, parks, culture, and the many public services provided by the City.
- d. In 1980 the citizens of Berkeley passed a strong rent control system that allowed a fair return to owner investment while not permitting large increases to the residents. In 1999 the State legislature weakened Berkeley's system by imposing "vacancy decontrol" on Berkeley's rent stabilized apartments. This allows owners to raise rents without limitation whenever a new renter moves in. Over 85% of Berkeley's older rental apartments have now had vacancy increases. Newer buildings are entirely exempt from rent stabilization.
- e. As a result of "vacancy decontrol" and unprecedented market forces, real (inflation-adjusted) rents in Berkeley have gone up by more than 50%. Renters are paying more than $100 million annually in additional rents, over and above the inflation adjustment for what is necessary for a fair return.
- f. Dramatically increased rents transfer income from Berkeley residents to owners of large rental properties, the majority of whom live outside of Berkeley. This transfer creates hardships for low and moderate-income tenants, drains the economic health of the community (less money for families to spend on local shopping and services) and increases the need for public services of all kinds, including affordable housing and homelessness prevention.

- g. By increasing the business license tax on high residential rents, this measure will recapture a small part of this income stream for the benefit of the entire community.
- h. The increase will only apply to investors who own five or more residential rental units. In addition, those units with historically low rents will be exempt from the increased business license tax and an appeal process will be established for unusual circumstances where the tax is unduly burdensome to an owner.

Section 2. A new section 9.04.196 is added to the Berkeley Municipal Code to read as follows:

Section 9.04.196 Rental of five or more units of residential real property.

A. Notwithstanding Section 9.04.195, this Section shall govern the taxation of gross receipts from the rental of five or more residential rental units in the city of Berkeley.

B. Every person engaged, directly or indirectly, including through an interest in another entity, in the business of renting or leasing dwelling units in the City of Berkeley shall pay an annual tax as provided in Section 9.04.240 for each thousand dollars of gross receipts.

C. Gross receipts from the following categories of dwelling units shall not be subject to this Section, but shall be subject to section 9.04.195:

1. dwelling units owned by a nonprofit corporation whose primary purpose is the provision of affordable housing, as provided in Section 9.04.300;
2. dwelling units whose rents are controlled under state or federal law, deed restrictions, or agreements with public agencies, at rental rates that are affordable to households earning no more than 80% of AMI and whose tenants must be income-qualified;
3. any unit subject to rent control under Chapter 13.76 that are occupied by a tenant who resided in that unit prior to January 1, 1999;
4. units occupied by tenants receiving monthly rental assistance (such as Section 8 vouchers or Shelter + Care) from the Berkeley Housing Authority or City of Berkeley; and
5. any dwelling unit during the first 12 years after the issuance of a certificate of occupancy.

D. Any person who would otherwise be subject to the tax imposed under this Section may seek a 1 year hardship exemption due to exceptional circumstances. The City Manager may approve such applications for good cause. Such approvals shall be in writing and specifically state the factors that constitute good cause. Any hardship exemption shall be effective for one tax year only, after which it will expire. Taxpayers who seek hardship exemptions must reapply every year.

E. The City Council may reduce the tax rate set forth in Section 9.04.240 under this Section for rental of five or more dwelling units, and may terminate any such reductions, without further voter approval.

F. The tax imposed by this Chapter shall not be passed on to sitting tenants in the form of rent increases or in any manner, even if permitted under Chapter 13.76.
