Subject: Proclaiming May 2018 as Mental Health Month

RECOMMENDATION

Adopt a Resolution proclaiming May 2018 as Mental Health Month in the City of Berkeley.

FISCAL IMPACTS OF RECOMMENDATION

None.

CURRENT SITUATION AND ITS EFFECTS

The Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) has determined that persons diagnosed with severe mental illness have a life expectancy of 25 years less than members of the general public. Through their National 10 x 10 Campaign they are bringing awareness to this devastating fact and have pledged to decrease that disparity by ten years in the next ten years. In the City's Mental Health Division many mental health clients also have co-occurring addiction disorders, exacerbating existing barriers to recovery and increasing the disparity in their life expectancy.

Mental Health America, an organization working to improve the mental health of all Americans, began observance of Mental Health Month during the month of May in 1949. Their primary goal was to promote awareness of mental health conditions and mental wellness for all. Local government agencies, public and private institutions, businesses and schools join in this annual campaign to raise public awareness and understanding of mental health and illness, and to reduce the stigma associated with mental health problems and treatment. Council is requested to join in this national campaign in order to promote increased awareness of mental health and mental disabilities in the City of Berkeley.

BACKGROUND

The mental health and well-being of the City of Berkeley's residents is a critical issue that affects not only quality of life, but also the health of our communities, families, and economic stability. Mental disorders and mental health problems affect residents of all backgrounds and all stages of life, and no one is immune from its affects. The World Health Organization (WHO) found that mental illnesses is the top ranking cause of disability in the United States and the most prevalent health problem in America today – more common than cancer, lung and heart disease combined. Nationally, one in four adults lives with a diagnosable, treatable mental health condition. According to WHO, in a typical workplace with 20 employees, four will likely develop a mental illness this year. More than three out of four employees who seek care for workplace issues or mental health problems see substantial improvement in work performance after treatment. Although mental health treatment has been shown to be effective, an estimated two-thirds of adults and young people with mental health challenges are not receiving the care they need to improve their lives significantly.

Socioeconomic inequalities and disparities in health have been widening for decades. In the United States, the data consistently show that people living in poverty, and particularly those who are members of minority communities, bear a disproportionate burden of exposure to unhealthy environments and are at greater risk for mental and behavioral health-related conditions.

The 2013 Berkeley Health Status Report Summary identifies discrepancies in health outcomes between white and African American residents and states that the City of Berkeley is committed to addressing and eliminating health inequities. The Health, Housing & Community Services (HHCS) Mental Health Division has recently initiated a Health Equity Committee to assess and address inequities in access to mental health services.

The City of Berkeley has been engaged in Mental Health Services Act (MHSA) planning and implementation in recent years, with the intent to identify areas of greatest need and to increase effective mental health services that promote mental health recovery. The Mental Health Division will continue to participate in a comprehensive and inclusive planning process to transform services provided by the Mental Health Division in alignment with core MHSA principles.

To strengthen the Berkeley/Albany community, the Mental Health Division also provides Mental Health First Aid training to enable community members to better assist their friends, family and neighbors who may have signs and symptoms of a mental health crisis or illness. The Mental Health First Aid Training teaches participants how to use a 5-step action plan to help connect a person in distress to appropriate professional, peer, social or self-help care.

The basis for a Citywide May is Mental Health Month proclamation is to increase awareness of the importance of mental health, and that mental health and physical health go hand-in-hand. This awareness helps to demonstrate commitment and support to Berkeley/Albany residents who have a mental illness and their families. This event also promotes hope and encourages those with mental illness to recover and become productive members of the community. The Mental Health Division is hosting a “May Is Mental Health Month” celebration entitled: “Each Person Matters: Let’s Talk About It”. The free event will be held on Wednesday, May 16 from 5:00-8:00pm at the South Berkeley Senior Center.

At its March 29, 2018 meeting, the Mental Health Commission passed the following motion:

M/S/C (Ortiz, Marasovic) Recommend to City Council to proclaim “May Is Mental Health Month”

Ayes: Castro, cheema, Davila, Fine, Heda, Kealoha-Blake, Marasovic, Ortiz, Posey; Noes: None; Abstentions: None; Absent: None.

ENVIRONMENTAL SUSTAINABILITY

There are no identifiable environmental effects or opportunities associated with the subject of this report.

RATIONALE FOR RECOMMENDATION

Proclaiming May as Mental Health Month offers us the opportunity to bring awareness that treatment for mental health problems is effective, that the successes of people in recovery are often remarkable, and to acknowledge men and women in the field who dedicate their lives to help people with psychiatric disabilities and other mental health problems.
