Subject: Support H.R. 40 – the Commission to Study and Develop Reparation Proposals for African-Americans Act

RECOMMENDATION
Adopt a Resolution in support of H.R. 40 – the Commission to Study and Develop Reparation Proposals for African-Americans Act, introduced by Congressperson Sheila Jackson Lee. Send a copy of the Resolution to Senators Dianne Feinstein and Kamala Harris, Congresspersons Barbara Lee and Sheila Jackson Lee, and President Donald Trump.

BACKGROUND
The first Africans to be captured and forced to work as slaves in the American colonies took place in 1619, with approximately 4,000,000 Africans and their descendants being enslaved in the colonies and the United States between 1619-1865. Slavery was constitutionally sanctioned by the United States government between 1789 and 1865, allowing for the inhumane suppression of their life, liberty, and cultural heritage. Even after the abolition of slavery after the end of the Civil War, federal, state and local laws such as Jim Crow, redlining and segregation has led to continual economic, educational and health hardships we see today. For example, African Americans make up 40% of the incarcerated population despite making up 13% of the country’s population. The African American unemployment rate is double that of whites, and on average have 1/16th the wealth of white families.

H.R. 40, introduced by Congressperson Sheila Jackson Lee, calls for the creation of a commission to study and develop Reparation proposals for African Americans. Specifically, the commission will look into how slavery, both from the Trans-Atlantic and domestic “trades”, along with the de jure and de facto discrimination faced by the African American community from the end of the Civil War to the present has impacted their livelihoods, and recommend appropriate remedies.

This proposal was originally introduced by Congressperson John Conyers in previous sessions of Congress, but he has since retired. While originally introduced in 1989, the idea has been gaining traction in recent years, and the once fringe topic is now becoming a mainstream conversation. In April, Senator Cory Booker introduced a companion bill to H.R. 40 in the Senate.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Commission to Study and Develop Reparation Proposals for African-Americans Act”.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

(1) approximately 4,000,000 Africans and their descendants were enslaved in the United States and colonies that became the United States from 1619 to 1865;

(2) the institution of slavery was constitutionally and statutorily sanctioned by the Government of the United States from 1789 through 1865;

(3) the slavery that flourished in the United States constituted an immoral and inhumane depre-divation of Africans’ life, liberty, African citizenship rights, and cultural heritage, and denied them the fruits of their own labor;

(4) a preponderance of scholarly, legal, community evidentiary documentation and popular culture markers constitute the basis for inquiry into the ongoing effects of the institution of slavery and its legacy of persistent systemic structures of discrimination on living African-Americans and society in the United States; and

(5) following the abolition of slavery the United States Government, at the Federal, State, and local level, continued to perpetuate, condone and often profit from practices that continued to brutalize and disadvantage African-Americans, including sharecropping, convict leasing, Jim Crow, redlining, unequal education, and disproportionate treatment at the hands of the criminal justice system; and

(6) as a result of the historic and continued discrimination, African-Americans continue to suffer debilitating economic, educational, and health hardships including but not limited to having nearly 1,000,000 black people incarcerated; an unemployment rate more than twice the current white unemployment rate; and an average of less than 1/16 of the wealth of white families, a disparity which has worsened, not improved over time.

(b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this Act is to establish a commission to study and develop Reparation proposals for African-Americans as a result of—

(1) the institution of slavery, including both the Trans-Atlantic and the domestic “trade” which existed from 1565 in colonial Florida and from 1619 through 1865 within the other colonies that became the United States, and which included the Federal and State governments which constitutionally and statutorily supported the institution of slavery;

(2) the de jure and de facto discrimination against freed slaves and their descendants from the end of the Civil War to the present, including economic, political, educational, and social discrimination;

(3) the lingering negative effects of the institution of slavery and the discrimination described in paragraphs (1) and (2) on living African-Americans and on society in the United States;

(4) the manner in which textual and digital instructional resources and technologies are being used to deny the inhumanity of slavery and the crime against humanity of people of African descent in the United States;

(5) the role of Northern complicity in the Southern based institution of slavery;

(6) the direct benefits to societal institutions, public and private, including higher education, corporations, religious and associational;
(7) and thus, recommend appropriate ways to educate the American public of the Commission’s findings;

(8) and thus, recommend appropriate remedies in consideration of the Commission’s findings on the matters described in paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (4), (5), and (6); and

(9) submit to the Congress the results of such examination, together with such recommendations.

(4) The other forms of discrimination in the public and private sectors against freed African slaves and their descendants who were deemed United States citizens from 1868 to the present, including redlining, educational funding discrepancies, and predatory financial practices.
