

Office of the City Manager

April 27, 2020

To: Honorable Mayor and Members of the City Council
From:  Dee Williams-Ridley, City Manager
Re: Business and Arts Organization Continuity Grant Awards

Today the City is awarding grants to businesses and arts organizations whose revenues have been significantly impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. There are 352 Business Continuity Grant Awards totaling $965,999, and 47 Arts Organization Continuity Grant Awards totaling $790,445 (with 19 other Arts Organization applications pending additional evaluation). This memo provides information about the application process, evaluation, results, and next steps. Attached are the complete lists of grantees for both the Business Continuity Grant Program and the Arts Organization Continuity Grant Program.

Background and Program Establishment

On March 17, 2020, City Council referred to the City Manager the establishment of a special fund to provide assistance to renters, small businesses and arts organizations significantly impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic and state of emergency.<sup>1</sup> Council directed staff to consider equity in the allocation of funding, to consult with businesses and business groups when developing the criteria, and to provide assistance to small businesses and arts groups in the form of grants rather than loans.

City Council allocated $3 million to create the fund. Of that, $1 million was allocated to expand the Housing Assistance Program, which provides assistance to low-income renters<sup>2</sup>; $1 million was allocated to create the Business Continuity Grant Program; and $1 million was allocated to create the Arts Organization Continuity Grant Program.

In addition, community leaders launched the Berkeley Relief Fund, a campaign to raise private donations to match the City's contribution. As of last week, approximately $842,000 has been pledged from Berkeley's business leaders and private citizens. Staff will work with the East Bay Community Foundation to allocate these additional funds to grantees in May.

<sup>2</sup> Staff will provide City Council an update on the Housing Assistance Program in a future communication.

Application Process

The Office of Economic Development (OED) managed both the Business and Arts Organization Continuity Grant Programs. The applications for both grant programs launched on Monday, March 30. Staff conducted a robust outreach campaign, with support from Councilmembers' offices; an article in Berkeleyside<sup>3</sup> also helped get the word out. The Business Continuity Grant Program application period closed on April 6, and the Arts Organization Continuity Grant Program application period closed on April 20.

For both programs, the application was designed to be as simple and streamlined as possible, given the difficult circumstances that many businesses and nonprofit organizations are presently experiencing. Applicants were asked to submit basic identifying information as well as evidence of how the COVID-19 pandemic has impacted their revenues. Applications were collected via a web-based platform called Submittable, which had already been in use by OED staff to collect applications for Civic Arts Grants and the Revolving Loan Fund.

Staff hosted a webinar for each program to walk applicants through the application process and answer questions. Staff posted a 'Frequently Asked Questions' document for each program.<sup>4</sup> OED staff, as well as staff from partner organizations including Uptima Business Bootcamp, provided direct assistance to applicants that needed help completing the application.

Eligibility and Evaluation: Business Continuity Grant Program

Staff, based on City Council's direction and consultations with business owners, workers, and business advocates, established eligibility guidelines and evaluation criteria for the Business Continuity Grant Program. Eligibility was based on the following:

- An existing business or nonprofit organization located within the City of Berkeley, with an active business license in 2019 or an application for a 2020 business license submitted as of March 1, 2020.
- Minimum 1 employee, Maximum 50 employees.
- Can demonstrate at least a 25% reduction in revenues due to COVID-19.
- Funds must be used to cover payroll, rent, or working capital for the business to cover operational expenses.

The applications were evaluated and scored based on the following criteria:

- Household income level of the primary business owner
- Demographic information of the primary business owner: race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation
- Extent of revenue loss
- Worker ownership
- Years based in City of Berkeley
- Priority industry sectors: restaurant, retail, service business with a store front, or nonprofit organization
- Not part of a chain of businesses (25 or more locations)
- Written sick leave policies to assist workers impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic

The Emergency Operations Center mobilized a team of staff from several City departments to assist OED with screening and scoring the grant applications, which allowed staff to complete the review process on an expedited timeline.

Eligibility and Evaluation: Arts Organization Continuity Grant Program

Civic Arts staff consulted with leaders and staff from arts and cultural organizations, the Civic Arts Commission, and Berkeley Cultural Trust to establish eligibility guidelines and evaluation criteria for the Arts Organization Continuity Grant Program.

Eligibility for the Arts Organization Continuity Grant Program was based on the following:

- Organization must be located in the City of Berkeley, with a majority (51% or more) of its arts activities in Berkeley for no less than one year.
- Organization has an economic need resulting from the impacts of COVID-19 as demonstrated by a reduction in monthly earned revenue of at least 25% compared to the same time period last year.
- Organization must be one of the following:
  - A nonprofit tax-exempt 501(c)(3) organization with a mission statement clearly focused on the development, production, and/or presentation of arts and culture.
  - An ongoing program of a non-arts or service-based nonprofit organization that is focused on the development, production, and/or presentation of arts and culture.
  - Applicants without tax-exempt 501(c)(3) status must have a tax-exempt 501(c)(3) fiscal sponsor.

Staff established evaluation criteria consistent with the City of Berkeley's commitment to cultural equity as articulated in the 2018 Arts & Culture Plan. As such, applications were evaluated for of any of the following attributes:

- Diverse Cultural Traditions (Artists Participating in Programs): Working with a majority (51% or more) of artists from historically marginalized communities.

- Populations Served (Audience and Program Participants): Produce a majority (51% or more) of programs, productions, projects and/or other cultural activities for Berkeley’s historically marginalized underserved communities.
- Geographic Equity (Organization’s Location in Berkeley): Produce a majority (51% or more) of programming, projects, and/or other cultural activities for geographically underserved areas of Berkeley and communities that lack conventional arts venues or formal arts programs.
- Organizational Composition (Staff and Board): The organization’s composition includes a majority (51% or more) of staff and board members from historically marginalized communities.

Results and Grant Awards

OED staff received 1,058 applications to the Business Continuity Grant Program, and 70 applications to the Arts Organization Continuity Grant Program.

The Business Continuity Grant Program is awarding grants to 352 recipients totaling $965,999 (see attachment 1). The average grant award amount is $2,744. Grants were capped at $5,000 or two times the reported revenue loss for March 2020.

The grant recipients are a diverse set that is broadly representative of the overall community of Berkeley businesses and nonprofits. The majority of grant awards are being distributed to restaurants and food services (120 grant awards totaling $335,000) and retailers (87 grant awards totaling $246,150) (see table 1). Sixty-three percent of grant recipients indicated a household income that is low or very low. Forty-five percent of grants are to businesses owned by people of color. Fifty-four percent of grants are to businesses and nonprofits that have been continuously active in Berkeley for more than 15 years.

The Arts Organization Continuity Grant Program is awarding the first round of funding in two batches. Today the City is awarding 47 grants, ranging from $400 to $24,000, and totaling $790,445 (see attachment 2). The average grant award amount is $16,818. There are 19 applications which are still under review; the award notifications for those applications will be released shortly. In total, it is anticipated that the City will award approximately $975,000 based upon preliminary reviews of the outstanding applications.

OED staff will work with staff from the Finance Department to process the grant awards and disburse payments as quickly as possible.

Additional Opportunities to Get Assistance

Staff will implement a second round of continuity grants to distribute the remainder of the City's funds for each program, as well as the private donations raised through Berkeley Relief Fund. Staff expects to release more information about those grants by early May.

In addition, OED staff and partner organizations are currently assisting businesses and arts organizations to access federal and state relief programs. Staff are conducting a variety of other activities in response to the crisis including weekly industry sector roundtables; communications about local, state and federal relief programs, private foundation resources, regulations and compliance; surveying businesses, nonprofits and arts organizations to determine the scope of economic impact of the crisis; implementing marketing campaigns to highlight essential businesses that are operating and other businesses that have pivoted their business model; and planning for mid- and long-term economic recovery.
