Re: Formal appeal of decision to sell the Berkeley Main Post Office located at 2000 Allston Way, Berkeley, CA 94704 and the relocation of retail services.

Dear Sir or Madam,

Please accept this letter as formal appeal of the United States Postal Service's (USPS) decision to sell the Berkeley Main Post Office located at 2000 Allston Way, Berkeley and the relocation of retail services currently available at the site.

The Berkeley City Council strongly opposes and objects to the sale of the Downtown Berkeley Post Office. We are disappointed to learn that USPS has decided to move forward with the sale of this historic building despite the overwhelming public opposition to the sale, as evidenced by the hundreds of community members that testified in person and via written correspondence.

On March 5, 2013 the Berkeley City Council adopted a resolution opposing the sale of the Berkeley Main Post Office. In it, the City Council requested USPS to suspend efforts to sell the building for one year, so that the City of Berkeley and USPS could work together to find a solution with the goal of continuing USPS ownership of the building. Since that time, USPS has not reached out to find an alternate solution that would not put the historic building up for sale. Instead, USPS unilaterally announced the sale and the relocation of retail services without taking into consideration the requests made by the Berkeley City Council.

The Berkeley Main Post Office is on the National Historic Register of Places. It is the anchor of the Berkeley Civic Center Historic District, which is comprised of Berkeley's landmarked Old City Hall, Farm Credit Building, Veterans' Memorial Building, Berkeley Central Public Library, Berkeley High School, Community and Little Theater, YMCA, Armstrong College, the Elks Club and Civic Center Park. To privatize the Berkeley Main Post Office is an attack on the historic fabric of our City's center and the Berkeley City Council continues to be united and passionate in its opposition to the sale of this property.

Berkeley's Main Post Office sits at the heart of our civic center and our city. To privatize this much loved landmark will diminish all that we have done to improve the downtown. It will also deprive citizens of their right to view the incomparable WPA murals, created with public funds and owned by all of us.

Our question to you is: What does it take for you not to sell this beautiful public building?

Please reconsider the sale and work with the City and the people of Berkeley to save our heritage and keep the Post Office in public hands. We are also requesting that the City be informed of when our appeal will be heard so we can be present for the deliberations.

Sincerely,

Mayor Tom Bates
