*P3a Description: (Describe resource and its major elements. Include design, materials, condition, alterations, size, setting, and boundaries)

This commercially developed property is not a Contributor to the Shattuck Avenue Downtown Historic District, as it was constructed after the period of historic significance.

The building and parking lot that occupy the subject lot were built in 1974, according to City of Berkeley building permits. It was originally constructed by Bank of America in 1974 to serve as their downtown Berkeley branch. It was designed by architect E. Paul Kelley, and constructed by the Almco Construction Co. of Walnut Creek, California.

The property was surveyed and evaluated in April 2015 by Bridget Maley of architecture + history, llc who found that the building was not historically significant under California Register or local criteria.
